

Licensing Advisory Service

Overview

The Executive Licensing Advisory service is designed to allow organizations to supplement or add executive level security product licensing expertise to their organization. By adding executive level security product licensing expertise, organizations can link business and security decisions that result in positive impacts to the bottom lines and may help to reduce security costs on products from security tool vendors.

Emagined Security offers a comprehensive array of Licensing and Implementation Services. Our implementation and licensing teams are fully qualified to support effective lifecycle integrations of each security solution. Emagined Security ensures that your solutions are appropriately licensed, securely architected, implementations are correctly installed and configured.

Benefits

Acquisition of security software licenses and vetting vendors can be a long and frustrating process. Because of our extensive experience in these areas, we can offer you decreased time to selection and show significant cost savings on licensing by assisting you with selection of an appropriate level of licensing and services for your organization's needs.

Emagined Security can help you design, license and implement a security infrastructure so you are assured the highest level of protection for your corporate assets. We are a "one-stop shop" in offering a complete network security architecture solution from design to implementation. The fact that we can "do it all" for you will result in greater efficiency, and thus afford you cost benefits.
